MILLVILLE BOROUGH.

OPINION BY THE COURT.

In the matter of the exceptions to the petition and proceeding to incorporate Millville into a borough. } In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Columbia Co. No. 22, May Sess. 1890.

One year ago the petition was filed in the Court with a sworn copy of the public notice attached showing that notice had been given for a period of more than thirty days immediately preceding the presentation of the said petition to the said Court, that the same would be presented on the 5th day of May 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, which was accordingly done and the same referred to and laid before the grand jury of the county as required by law.

All parties, for and against the application, with their witnesses and counsel appeared before said grand jury who fully, and, so far as we have any knowledge, fairly, heard all the witnesses and arguments of counsel pro, and con.

Upon and after all such hearing the grand jury certified in their report to the Court "that after a full investiga-" "tion of the case a majority of said" "jury do find that the conditions pre-" "scribed by the Acts of Assembly in" "such cases made and provided and" "relating thereto, have been complied" "with and believe that it is expedient" "to grant the prayer of the peti-" "tioners."

This report is in exact conformity with that directed and required by Justice Clark in the opinion of the Supreme Court of this State In re-incorporation of Summit Borough 114 P. S. 362, and suffice to answer the argument of counsel, for exceptants, in that respect.

There are nine exceptions to the confirmation of the report of the grand jury, seven of which relate exclusively to matters over which that tribunal had jurisdiction and control.

The eighth or ninth exceptions are not sustained nor passed.

The question of fact, whether or not it is necessary or expedient to grant the prayer of the petitioners, was submitted to the grand Jury according to the requirements of the Acts of Assembly relating thereto.

They seem to be the body particularly required and made competent under the law to pass upon that question.

They must enter into a "full investigation" of the case.

They heard the witnesses face to face and reported in favor of a borough. That judgment of the grand jury may, at, or after the succeeding term of court be confirmed.

"But if the Court shall deem fur-" "ther investigation necessary they" "may take such order thereon, as to" "right and justice shall appertain."

One year's time has been given the remonstrants to show that that report of the grand jury is wrong or unjust.

Were it shown to the satisfaction of the Court that any fraud, mistake or unfairness occurred at that hearing, or that any undue influence was exercised, or duress brought to bear over the grand jury, or any member thereof, or upon the petitioners for the borough, in the course of the proceedings to procure such report, we would unhesitatingly disaffirm the report or send it back to another grand jury for decision. But without one jot or tittle of proof of anything of the kind ever having occurred would it be "right" or "just" to do so?

It seems to us under the facts and evidence in this case no irregularity or illegality appearing in the proceedings from the records in the case—that we would be no more justified in refusing to confirm the report of the grand jury, than we would in an ordinary civil suit in disregarding the verdict of a petit jury.

No good reason, law, or precedent can be shown for so doing. As well might we domineer over and set up our will in other matters, involving questions of fact. without hearing the evidence, or seeing the witnesses.

Without excuse, or cause, more than is given us in this case we cannot but feel that it would be an arbitrary stretch of power for the court to refuse to confirm the report of the grand jury.

True we possess that discretionary power, but it should be exercised cautiously and soundly.

Should the incorporation of villages into boroughs depend upon the will of even a majority of those free holders residing outside the limits of the proposed borough, or upon the unanimous consent of those residing within the proposed lines none would be established. Yet such municipal corporations have existed in all governments from a very early period. Time and experience have demonstrated the necessity for the organization of towns into boroughs, and boroughs into cities, and the result proves how well adapted the system is to promote the well being of the communities thus governed.

Without the cities there are in this State 715 boroughs, only three of which are located in this county. And we venture the assertion as unchallenged that no one once obtaining a charter ever abandoned or surrendered it. It has been considered the part of wisdom by all governments to organize municipal corporations under general laws. It is earnestly urged by counsel for the exceptants that because the inhabitants within the proposed lines of the borough are peaceful and law abiding people, and generally agree with one another, that therefore no necessity exists for, nor can any benefit be derived by granting them a charter of incorporation into a borough. In answer to this it may be said that for the maintenance and support of better schools, for the laying out and repair of streets and highways, for the directness, uniformity and grade of pavements, or side walks, for the location and material in the matter of erecting buildings, for the general safety and protection from fire, for the better preservation of the public health, for the prevention of the spread of contagious disease, for the maintainance of internal police to preserve, on all occasions, peace and good order and for the power to levy and collect taxes to defray the expense of these necessary and prudential affairs. a borough organization may be necessary. The burden of the administration of the affairs of the borough will fall exclusively upon the property owners within its limits. The owners of farm land within the territory proposed to be incorporated are making no objection, and considering those owning farms immediately along and adjoining the lines of the survey, who did object to being included and were necessarily left out, the lines established are perhaps, and according to the best of our knowledge. the best that could be run. The creation of a borough as laid out and reported may and perhaps will as set forth in the exceptions, subject citizens of the unincorporated portion of Greenwood township to a slightly increased rate of school and road taxes and in some instances to increase travel and inconvenience in going to schools and elections. But these disadvantages will soon be ovorcome and all property within the township increased in value by the growth and improvement of the borough by providing better facilities for employment, trade and commerce and are not to be regarded as sufficient to overbalance the general advantages to be gained by the public at large by the establishment of the borough. The fair intendment of the law is that municipal corporations are created and exist for the public good and advantage. Not for the benefit of their officers or of particular individuals or classes.

Especially is this so under our government. In these little governments are where our people have acquired the habits of subordination, obedience to law and practical knowledge of civil government.

An eminent and modern jurist has said in speaking of the necessity of municipal corporations, "Here have been the seats of modern civilization, the nurseries of public spirit and the centres of constitutional liberty."

The numerous boroughs which have been created in modern times are of infinite advantage to society.

They bind men more closely together, and educate them better in local and political government than does any other form of association.

It is founded upon the idea of popular representative government. The right of supervision and control rested in the councils as the immediate representative of the popular will is exerted, enforced and determined by constantly recurring annual elections.

Their powers are defined and fixed by general laws.

The extension of the right to vote for officers annually to all who are to be affected by their action, makes the citizen familiar with public affairs and creates in him a love for liberty and a regard for private rights of person and property which are characteristic of the best government.

Moved by these considerations and with great respect for the right of all parties concerned we are constrained to confirm the judgment of the grand jury.

And now May 4th 1891. The exceptions to the confirmation of the report of the grand jury are dismissed, and their report certifying that it is expedient that the village of Millville should be incorporated into a borough by the name style and title of the "Borough of Millville" is confirmed. And it is further ordered and decreed that the place for holding the first borough election for the election of officers to serve until the next borough election, shall be at the Hotel, or public house, now occupied by James Rice on Tuesday the 26th day of May A D. 1891, between the hours of seven o'clock in the forenoon and seven o'clock in the afternoon of said day. That said election shall be held by the following named persons and clerks to be appointed by them according to law—Samuel B. Kisner, judge-Joseph S. Cole and W. W. Heacock, inspectors. U. C. Oblosser, is hereby appointed as the proper person, who shall at least ten days before the day above appointed for the election of borough and other officers give public notice by ten or more printed, or written, advertisements affixed at as many of the most public places within said borough, of the time and place of holding such election. And shall also within six days after the election of officers at said election, give notice in writing to the person, or persons who shall be chosen of his or their, election to the said office. And annually thereafter the borough elections shall be held at the time and place, which shall be the same place now appointed, appointed by law for the holding of special and general elections—viz.: at the Hotel or public house above mentioned.

And inasmuch as the incorporation of the village of Millville into a borough and seperate election district necessitates the fixing of another polling place for the West District of Greenwood Township. We hereby appoint and fix as the place for the holding of the said Township, general and special elections the Greenwood public School House near J. F. Wilson's and appoint as officers to hold said elections until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified. William Beishline, Judge; J. Emmory Eves and Willis Demott, inspectors.

XII.

THE SHOW IS CONFISCATED.

OU hav perhaps wondered whareabouts I was for these many dase gone and past. Perchans you sposed I'd gone to the Tomb of the Cappylets, tho I don't know what those is. It's a popler noospaper frase.

Listen to my tail, and be silent that ye may here. I've been among the Seceshers a earnin my daily peck by my legitimit perfeshun, and havn't had no time to weeld my facile quill for "the Grate Komick paper," if you'll allow me to kote from your troothful advertisement.

My success was skaly, and I likewise had a narrer scape of my life. If what I've bin threw is "Suthern hosspitality," 'bout which we've hearn so much, then I feel bound to obsarve that they made two much of me. They was altogether too lavish with their attenshuns.

I went amung the Seseshers with no feelins of annermosity. I went in my perfeshernal capacity. I was actooated by one of the most Loftiest desires which can swell the human Buzzum—viz., to giv the people their money's worth, by showin them Sagashus Beests, and Wax Statoots, which I venter to say air onsurpast by any other statoots anywheres. I will not call that man who sez my statoots is humbugs a lier and a hoss thief, but bring him bi me and I'll wither him with one of my scornful frowns.

But to proseed with my tail. In my travels threw the Sonny South I heared a heap of talk about Seceshon and bustin up the Union, but I didn't think it mounted to nothin. The politicians in all the villages was swearin that Old Abe (sometimes called the Prahayrie flower) shouldn't never be noggerated. They also made fools of theirselves in varis ways, but as they was used to that I didn't let it worry me much, and the Stars and Stripes continued for to wave over my little tent. Moor over, I was a Son of Malty and a member of several other Temperance Societies, and my wife she was a Dawter of Malty, and I sposed these fax would secoor me the infloonz and and pertectiun of all the fust families. Alas! I was dispinted.

State arter State seseshed and it growed hotter and hotter for the undersined. Things came to a climbmacks in a small town in Alabamy, where I was premtorally ordered to haul down the Stars & Stripes. A deppytashun of red faced men cum up to the door of my tent ware I was standin takin money (the arternoon exhibishun had commenst, an' my Italyun organist was jerkin his sole-stirrin chimes). "We air cum, Sir," said a millingtary man in a cockt hat, "upon a high and holy mishun. The Southern Eagle is screamin threwout this sunny land—proudly and defiantly screamin, Sir!"

"What's the matter with him?" sez I; "don't his vittles sit well on his stum muck?"

"That Eagle, Sir, will continner to scream all over this Brite and tremenjus land!"

"Wall, let him scream. If your Eagle can amuse hisself by screamin, let him went!" The men anoyed me, for I was bizzy makin change.

"We are cum, Sir, upon a matter of dooty"——

"You're right, Capting. It's every man's dooty to visit my show," sed I.

"We air cum"——

"And that's the reason you are here!" sez I, larfin one of my silvery larfs. I thawt if he wanted to goak I'd giv him some of my sparklin eppygrams.

"Sir, you're inserlent. The plain question is, will you haul down the Star Spangled Banner and hist the Southern flag?"

"Nary hist!" Those was my reply.

"Your wax works and beests is then confisticated, & you air arrested as a Spy!"

Sez I, "My fragrant roses of the Southern clime and Bloomin daffodils, what's the price of whisky in this town, and how many cubic feet of that seductive flooid can you individooally hold?"

They made no reply to that, but said my wax figgers was confisticated. I axed them if that was ginerally the stile among thieves in that country, to which they also made no reply, but sed I was arrested as a Spy, and must go to Montgomry in uns. They was by this time jined by a large crowd of other Southern patrits, who commenced hollerin "Hang the baldheaded abolitionist, and bust up his immoral exhibition!" I was ceased and tied to a stump, and the crowd went for my tent—that waterproof pavilion, wherein instruction and amoosment had been so muchly combined, at 15 cents per head—and tore it all to pieces. Meanwhile dirty faced boys was throwin stuns and empty beer bottles at my massiv brow, and takin other improper liberties with my person. Resistance was useless, for a variety of reasons, as I readily obsarved.

The Seseshers confisticated my statoots by smashing them to attums. They then went to my money box and confisticated all the loose change therein contained. They then went and bust in my cages, lettin all the animals loose, a small but helthy tiger among the rest. This tiger has a excentric way of tearin dogs to peaces, and I allers sposed from his ginneral conduck that he'd hav no hesitashun in servin human beins in the same way if he could git at them. Excuse me if I was crooil, but I larfed boysterrusly when I see that tiger spring in among the people. "Go it, my sweet cuss!" I inardly exclaimed. "I forgive you for bitin off my left thum with all my heart! Rip 'em up like a bully tiger whose Lare has bin inwaded by Seseshers!"

I can't say for certain that the tiger serisly injured any of them, but as he was seen a few days after, sum miles distant, with a large and well selected assortment of seats of trowsis in his mouth, and as he lookt as tho he'd bin havin sum vilent exercise, I raythor guess he did. You will therefore perceive that they didn't confisticate him much.

I was carrid to Montgomery in iuns and placed in durans vial. The jail was a onery edifiss, but the table was liberally surplied with Bakin and Cabbidge. This was a good variety, for when I didn't hanker after Bakin I could help myself to the cabbige.

I had nobody to talk to nor nothin to talk about, howsever, and I was very lonely, specially on the first day; so when the jailer parst my lonely sell I put the few stray hairs on the back part of my hed (I'm bald now, but thare was a time when I wore sweet auburn ringlets) into as dish-hevild a state as possible, & rollin my eyes like a manyuck, I cride: "Stay, jaler, stay! I am not mad, but soon shall be if you don't bring me suthin to Talk!" He brung me sum noospapers, for which I thanked him kindly.

At larst I got a interview with Jefferson Davis, the president of the Southern Confederacy. He was quite perlite, and axed me to sit down and state my case. I did it, when he larfed and said his gallant men had been a little 2 enthoosiastic in confisticatin my show.

"Yes," sez I, "they confisticated me too muchly. I had sum hosses confisticated in the same way onct, but the confisticators air now poundin stun in the States Prison in Injinnapylus."

"Wall, wall, Mister Ward, you air at liberty to depart; you are frendly to the South, I know. Even now we hav many frens in the North, who sympathise with us, and won't mingle with this fight."

"J. Davis, there's your grate mistaik. Many of us was your sincere frends, and thought certain parties amung us was fussin about you and meddlin with your consarns intirely too much. But J. Davis, the minit you fire a gun at the piece of dry goods called the Star-Spangled banner, the North gits up and rises en massy, in defence of that banner. Not agin you as individools—not agin the South even—but to save the flag.

"We should indeed be weak in the knees, unsound in the heart, milk-white in the liver, and soft in the hed, if we stood quietly by, and saw this glorus Govyment smashed to pieces, either by a furrin or a intestine foe. The gentle-harted mother hates to take her naughty child across her knee, but she knows it is her dooty to do it. So we shall hate to whip the naughty South, but we must do it if you don't make back tracks at onct, and we shall wallup you out of your boots! J. Davis, it is my decided opinion that the Sonny South is making a egrejus mutton-hed of herself!"

"Go on, sir, you're safe enuff. You're too small powder for me!" sed the President of the Southern Confederacy.

"Wait till I go home and start out the Baldinsville Mounted Hoss Cavalry! I'm Capting of that Corpse, I am, and J. Davis, beware! Jefferson D., I now leave you! Farewell, my gay Saler Boy! Good bye, my bold buccaneer! Pirut of the deep blue sea, adoo! adoo!"

My tower threw the Southern Confederacy on my way home was thrillin snuff for yeller covers. It will form the subjeck of my next. Betsy Jane and the projeny air well. Yours respectively,

A. WARD.

FRAGMENT FROM A NEW ENGLAND SPEECH.

I see mutch to admire in New Englan. Your gals in particklar air about as snug built peaces of Calliker as I ever saw. They air fully equal to the corn fed gals of Ohio and Injianny, and will make the bestest kind of wives. It sets my Buzzum on fire to look at 'em.

Be still, my sole, be still,
& you, my Hart, stop cuttin up!

I like your skool houses, your meetin houses, your enterprise, gumpshun, &c., but your favorit Bevridge I disgust. I allude to New England Rum. It is wuss nor the korn whisky of Injianny, which eats threw stone jugs and will turn the stummuck of the most shiftliss Hog. I seldom seek consolashun at the flowin Bole, but tother day I wurrid down some of your Rum.

The fust glass indused me to swar like a infooriated trooper. Thinks He Has the Ripper.

INSPECTOR BYRNES CONFIDENT THAT FRENCHY NO. 1 IS THE MAN.

BLOOD STAINS FOUND IN THE ROOM HE OCCUPIED ACROSS THE HALL FROM WHERE CARRIE BROWN WAS MURDERED.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Inspector Byrnes is pretty certain that he has the American Jack the Ripper, the man who killed Carrie Brown, known as Shakespeare, just a week ago to-night. The man turns out to be Frank Sherlick, alias Frenchy No. 1, who was arrested on Friday night, less than twenty-four hours after committing the crime, and who has been under lock and key ever since. On the night the murder was committed Frenchy No' 1 occupied room 33 in the Fourth Ward Hotel with a woman by the name of Mary Ann Lopez.

This room was across the hall from that occupied by the woman Brown and her unknown companion. From information in the possession of the police it appears that the murdered woman's companion had left her some time before 1 o'clock on Friday morning. Frenchy No. 1 had been at one time a lover of the old woman, but for some reason had become insanely jealous of her. He heard her companion leave the room, and shortly afterwards he got up, and leaving his room-mate, Mary Lopaz, asleep, crossed the hall and deliberately strangled and then disemboweled his victim. This is the story of the police. It is substantiated by the following facts.

HOW THE MURDER WAS COMMITTED.

When Frenchy No. 1 had completed his murderous work he recrossed the hall and entered room No. 33. In that room he left the evidences of his guilt When the police made their investigation, traces of blood were to be found on every side.

The only chair the room contained was covered with blood, smeared over it from the clothes the murderer wore, he having sat down upon it when he entered the room. The bed clothes were found to be covered with blood, the murderer some time during the night having thrown himself upon the bed. His stockings—he having removed his shoes to do his bloody work—were soaked with blood, and his clothing were also covered with blood. On the walls and ceiling of the little room many small spots of blood were found, the man having evidently entered the room with his hands reeking with blood, and in his desire to remove it he had shaken and snapped his hands and fingers, thus liberally distributing the blood about the room.

When the prisoner was searched at the station house the police found that the lower half of his flannel shirt was fearfully bloody. On his shoulder was a blood-stain, which looked as if it had been made by the laying on of a bloody hand. His hands showed traces of the stain, but they had been washed. Inspector Byrnes examined his hands and finger nails. The latter he carefully scraped and found plain and distinct traces of human blood To positively establish the fact the scrapings and dirt found under the nails were submitted to a chemical analysis.

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENTS.

It is hard to tell just now how he got out or when he got out of the hotel, but when he did leave he seems to have made no attempt to run away. He remained in the neighborhood and was caught only a few blocks from the hotel. He was questioned closely and asked to account for the blood on his clothing. He first started off in a rambling story of how he had gone to Jamaica, L. I., with a woman. He said he had been locked up in the jail at Long Island City, and upon his release had got the blood on himself accidentally. He told many stories, in every one of which women figured.

All of the stories were investigated. Some of them were partly true and some of them were pure fabrications. As far as the stories of the blood were concerned, they were all false, and there was but one conclusion to arrive at. It was that Frenchy had killed the woman. The blood found upon him was subjected to microscopic examination and found to be human blood.

Frenchy's history is not very well known. He has been in the habit of working at anything that came along. Occasionally he would get a job in a bar room, but it never lasted tong, because the women patrons did not like him. He is an Algerian, who talks bad English and worse French. His reputation in the ward is as bad as possible.

The inquest on the murdered woman has been postponed until May 11.

Look At Him!

The Levy on Reading's Loans.

A DECISION OF THE COURT HOLDS THAT THE STATE TAX MUST BE PAID ON THE LOANS OF THE COMPANY NOW HELD IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Judge Simonton of Harrisburg has handed down an opinion in the case of the State against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, and appealed by the Company from a statement of tax on loans, during 1887 and 1888, made by the State's financial officers. In the opinion, which is long, the Court reviews the causes and history of the various Reading loans, and ascertains that there was $8.073, 930, on which interest was paid directly by the defendant in 1887, and $11, 017, 330, on which interest was paid directly by the defendant in 1888.

The Court concludes as follows: "That the defendant is liable for tax for 1887 and 1888, on the above amounts which were held and owned by residents of Pennsylvania. The defendant is liable for tax for 1887 on $10,624,000, the amount of its indebtedness, evidenced by the general mortgage loan of July 1, 1874, held in Pennsylvania. It is liable for tax for 1888 on $12,275,000 of the general mortgage loan July 1, 1874, held in Pennsylvania. It is liable for tax in 1887 and 1888 on $300,560 for each year on Perkiomen Railroad mortgage stock held by residents of this State; it is liable for tax for 1888 on $13,263, 657 securities held by Brown Brothers & Co., made up of income mortgage, first series 5 per cent. consols, second series 5 per cent. consols, the debenture loan of 1868, convertible loan of 1868; convertible loan of 1873, debenture loan of 1878, and deferred coupons and script held in Pennsylvania.

The Court further finds that the defendant is not liable on any part of its indebtedness not held by residents of Pennsylvania in 1887 and 1888. Judgment is given for the State in the sum of $136,442.91.

Warping of Wood.

As lumber is now sawn, every board but one will warp and curl up in the process of seasoning The reason for this is plain. If the board be sawn from the side of the log the grain rings of the wood lie in circles, which have a greater length on one than upon the other side of the board. A board cut from the very centre of the log has grain circles of equal length upon each side, and will lie perfectly flat when seasoned.

When selecting the lumber for a tool chest or some other fine job, pick out boards that show they came as near as possible from the centre of the log. A method is in use which compensates for this tendency to curl in seasoning. This is known as quarter sawing, and quartered oak, of which so much is said at present, is sawn by this process.

It consists of sawing out boards radially from the centre to the outside of the log. Suppose a log be split into four pieces, each of these pieces is sawn diagonally, so that the grain rings run through, instead of the circles running into it, part way through and out upon the same side of the board.—Woodworker.

Take Warning

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and will make you strong and healthy.—Editor Weekly Press. 5-1 2-t.

The Notices are all Right.

Visitors to the clerk's office of the superior court who have occasion to use the writing table that stretches across the room have been startled recently by large placards tacked about two feet apart informing whom it may concern that "these inkstands" are about the size of the average hat, and are kept filled with ink, the warning seems quite as gratuitous as it would be to placard notices to people not to walk off with a red hot stove.

A lawyer who took offense at these notices got one of the office veterans in a corner the other day and asked him if he did not think such a notice was carrying a joke perilously far. The veteran shook his head, and in saddened tones thus answered:

"In the mistakes of the past we should seek our guidance for the future."—New York Times.

"Tired All The Time."

Say many poor men and women, who seem overworked, or are debilitated by change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merits. As this is impossible. why not try Hood's Sarsaparilla yourself and realize its benefit? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expressed it, "like a new creature."

The Seashore Season.

READING'S "ROYAL ROUTE" WILL MAINTAIN ITS SUPREMACY.

Atlantic City's popularity grows from year to year and the approaching season promises to be the greatest ever known at this, the greatest of all seaside resorts The Reading Railroad, whose superbly magnificent line between Philadelphia and Atlantic City has become famous throughout the country as the "Royal Route to the Sea," will continue to be the principal and favorite means of getting to and from the City by the sea. The Reading's superiority in equipment is generally conceded. Its chief advantage consists in the fact that it has the only double track line of railroad to Atlantic City. The importance of this cannot be overestimated. Not only does it insure the absolute safety of passengers but it admits of quicker and more reliable transit. The Reading's line is also several miles shorter than any other road to Atlantic City, and it runs almost as straight as the crow flies. The great "Seventy-five minute Flyers" are the most talked of trains in America. For beauty, elegance and speed they are literally beyond rivalry and those of our readers who visit Atlantic City should not fail to experience the delight of a ride on one of these matchless trains. The summer schedule will comprise a larger number of fast express trains than has ever heretofore been run on any line. Trains will start at such frequent intervals that one can scarcely fail to catch a "flyer" at whatever time he may desire to go. The spring time table now in effect shows week day trains leaving Philadelphia at 9.00 a. m., 2.00 and 4.00 p.m., with additional fast express at 3.45 on Saturdays. Sunday morning express leaves at 9.00 a. m. Returning trains start from Atlantic City at 7 30 and 9.00 a. m., and 4.00 p. m., week days, 4.00 and 5.30 p. m. Sundays. Beginning May 10th additional express trains will be run down at 5.00 p. m. week days and 8.00 a. m. Sundays, and there will be more returning trains. The "Royal Route's" Philadelphia stations are at Chestnut street and South street Wharves and all Reading Railroad Ticket offices have through tickets and baggage checks for Atlantic City.

Just now the moths are so plentiful it is well for housekeepers to bear in mind that it is not the flying moth that causes the trouble. The moth lays from 18 to 140 eggs at a time In from three to seven days these hatch out into little worms, which spin a tiny case for themselves from the carpet, fur or other material containing animal substance in which they were laid. All the damage is done in the thirty-six days from the time the eggs are laid until the grub reaches its full size. Two things are sure death—benzine spray and Paris green or any arsenical preparation, but they are both so dangerous that few can use them. Camphor, or even camphor tar, are only partially repellant to the flying moth and have no effect whatever on the grub, so that furs and garments may be locked up with pounds of camphor and when opened found eaten to pieces. The benzine spray is the best known preventive against moths, but a light should not be brought in the room where it has been used until it has been well aired.

He Wasn't.

A man with a paint pot and brush was at work on the front steps of a house on Third street when a pedestrian halted and called out:

"Hello! So you are painting, eh?"

The painter put aside his brush, wiped his fingers on a piece of paper and descended to the walk to reply:

"My friend, I am sorry for you, but by keeping your eyes open and always being prepared to dodge the fool killer you may pull through."

"W-what do you mean?"

"You asked me if I was painting?"

"Yes"

"Well, I'm not. I'm gravel roofing these steps. Can't you see the gravel? Isn't the tar kettle right here? Can't you tell the difference between gravel roofing and painting?"

The other looked at him for half a minute, sized him up as the biggest man, and turned away with:

A Governor's Opinion

An ex-General of the Union Army, ex-Governor of the State of Maine, ex-Representative to Congress, and ex-Attorney General, speaks for us.

With the exception, possibly, of Hon. James G. Blaine, there is no man so well-known to the people of Maine, as

GEN. HARRIS M. PLAISTED,

Who has a grand record as a soldier, who has been the Governor of the State, Representative to Congress, and who is at present the editor and proprietor of the "New Age" newspaper, printed in Augusta, Me.

General Plaisted, formerly a resident of Bangor, Me., knew Dr. William H. Brown intimately, and did not hesitate, when he found himself out of condition, to use Brown's Sarsaparilla.

In due season Gen. Plaisted found himself a perfectly well man, and one day, while at his desk in his editorial room, wrote an article on Maine's famous remedy The article was issued July 15th, 1887, and, while our space will forbid the printing of the whole, we feel warranted in taking from it the following:

Gen. Plaisted says: Our confidence in Brown's Sarsaparilla is based upon personal knowledge of its curative properties in cases of Malaria, and upon our long acquaintance with that eminent physician, Dr. William H. Brown, late of Bangor, who perfected the formula by which the medicine is prepared.

Malaria is a prevalent disease now-a-days. It not only fastens itself upon the systems of the old veterans, who fought for years in the Southern swamps and low-lands, but it takes hold of those who live in the atmospheres of the cities and larger towns. Gases from swamps, sluggish rivers, sewers, the streets, and many other ill kept places, poison the system, making the entrance of some other disease easy. You can avoid all danger, can keep disease at a distance, and have a system teeming with rich blood and vitality, by simply using Brown's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood when others fail. It is the best in the world.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Special Correspondence of THE COLUMBIAN

HARRISBURG, May 6, 1891.

It appears to be settled that the final adjournment of the Legislature will take place on the 28th of this month. It matters not, however for much important legis ation will be left unconsidered. In all any knowledge of Legislative work in Harrisburg I have never known a Legislature so far behind in its work. Whether it will be able to catch up within the next two or three weeks is a matter of great doubt. Too much time was frittered away in the beginning of the session. too many adjournments, too few working days, and the consequence is that at "the heels of the heat" everything is being rushed, and very little matured or properly considered. Of all Pennsylvania Legislatures this will pass into history as the one that has talked the most and done the least.

IT WAS TOO LATE.

Capt. Skinner of Fulton, did his best yesterday to recall the General Road bill from the Senate for the purpose of giving it its death blow. It will be remembered that this measure passed the House by a bare constitutional majority, a fact which inspired its enemies with the belief that it would be an easy matter to kill it. Capt. Skinner's resolution to recall was objected to by Mr. Keyser, of Philadelphia, and under the rules could not be considered, but Mr. Kembles of Wayne, made a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed finally. This was followed by a motion from the friends of the bill to lay the matter on the table, which was rejected by a vote of 80 to 78. Then followed a stormy debate, in the midst of which a communication was received from the Senate stating that that body had concurred in the House amendments to the bill, and the Speaker therefore declared that further discussion was out of order. The bill now goes to the governor.

THE BITUMINOUS MINE COMMISSIONS.

Senator Robbins, of Westmoreland, presented the majority and minority reports of the Bituminous Mine Commission. The minority changes the date when the law shall go into effect until January 1. 1892, instead of on its passage. The majority bill requires a minimum on supply of 150 cubic feet of air per minute, and the minority proposes 100 cubic feet as the minimum. It is further alleged in the minority report that no law in this country or Europe fixes the air supply at over 100 cubic feet for bituminous mines.

A LIVELY SCENE.

There was a lively tilt in the Senate chamber on Monday night between Senator Robinson. of Delaware, and Senator Rapsher, of Carbon. The latter offered a resolution that the bill providing for a Constitutional Convention be made a special order to-day. To this Robinson took exceptions, and indulged in some very ugly remarks. Among other things he said that the resolution of Senator Rapsher showed an ignorant violation of the agreement between Senators on both sides of the chamber on the subject of the time for calling up the Constitutional Convention bill. To this Senator Rapsher made a dignified but telling reply, and among other things said that he "did not claim to be as smart as the Senator from Delaware or to hold as many offices." This brought Robinson down from his lofty perch, and he made a humble apology to the Carbon Senator. Then the usual placidity and demeanor of the chamber were restored, and everything is again working smoothly.

THE JUDICIAL APPORTIONMENT.

The Judicial Apportionment bill was considered in the House last night. All the amendments of the Democrats were rejected, and the proposition to give fourteen Judges to Philadelphia was reduced to twelve. The Republicans will not act fairly or decently in this or the other Apportionment bills, and the sooner the Democrats get to understand this the better. But they will not have all their own way, for just as soon as they pass an unfair or unjust bill just so soon it will be vetoed by Governor Pattison.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is on the flood de of popularity, which position it as reached by its own intrinsic, unoubted merit.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heart-burn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." Delamaters in Bad Odor.

THEIR CREDITORS ARE DISAPPOINTED AND THREATEN TO JAIL THEM.

MEADVILLE, May 3.—The creditors of Delamater & Co. see no prospect of securing a return of any portion of the money deposited with the defunct bank, and now say they will send the ex-Senator and Republican candidate for Governor to jail and keep him there. John Kelling, a contractor, who had $200 in the bank, yesterday made a charge of embezzlement against George Wallace, George B., Victor M. and T. A. Delamater. Last evening the first three defendants waived a hearing, and each gave bail in $300 for court. T. A. Delamater is in Chicago. An attempt is to be made, by repeated arrests, to exhaust the bail and finally get the ex-Senator and the other members of the firm into jail.

The feeling here against the Delamaters is very bitter and is due to the failure of the latter to make good their fifty per cent proposition. The terms of the proposition were that it should be unanimously accepted by May 1. At a meeting Friday it was shown that all but $22,000 of the claims had been signed for. The depositors' committee assumed the responsibillity for this amount and demanded that Delamater & Co. consider the proposition accepted and fulfill the contract. Ex-Senator Delamater replied yesterday that the terms of the proposition had not been complied with and that the friends who were to assist him in making the payment of ten per cent would not consent to extending the time for securing the balance of the signatures of creditors.

A Fire at Scranton Which Does Much Damage.

SCRANTON, May 3.—The fire which broke out here at a late hour Friday night in the big barn of the People's Street Railway Company destroyed thirty-three electric cars with the barn, burnt out the rear windows of St. Luke's Church and wrecked the rear portion of the large Scranton Republican building.

Water flooded the Republican press room and even crumbled away a part of the wall of the composing room, but at 4 o'clock, after the efforts of the firemen had won. the editors returned to their desks and the compositors to their cases, and the Republican made its appearance in its usual eight-page form. The loss to the Republican may reach $27,000. The Street Railway Company's loss probably reaches $200,000, and may exceed that.

Pure Rye Whiskey.

One year ago we had 5000 gallons of Old Rye Whiskey in Bond, which was considered a large stock to carry and sufficient for the trade. The demand, however, for our whiskey became such, that we were compelled to increase the capacity of our distillery, in order to give the whiskey some age before placing it on the market.

We are now making over a barrel a day; having a daily capacity of over 50 gals. and carrying a stock of 11,000 gals. in Bond. We hope to give our patrons the benefit of the age and will sell no whiskey under six months, and from that up to three years. No second hand barrels are used at our Distillery; all our whiskey is bonded in new, clean, charred, barrels, and for purity and quality we defy competition.

We have never distilled a bushel of corn, and we do hereby guarantee ALL our whiskey to be absolutely Pure Rye and doubled on a copper lined still and to any person who will find any drugs or corn in our whiskey as it leaves our Distillery or Salesroom, we will forfeit $500.00.

FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1891.

EAST BENTON.

A Copious rain came pouring down last Sunday morning refreshing vegetation and all nature was serene.

The fruit prospect at present promises an abundance.

Grain–especially wheat is in growing condition.

Some planted corn in April, but experience has taught us that the planting season is never ntly here until about the 15 of May.

A large acreage of potatoes will be planted this year in our locality.

The W. & W. R. R. is bent to steer another way. Its shrill whistle will not be heard in our valley, and our people can only look with disgust on such crooked engineering. But, who cares?

The farmers look with great anxiety upon the final passage of the Tax bill in its present form, or as it passed the House, without modification. Every member of the Senate voting against that measure will settle his future destiny, there and then, with the farmers.

VICINITY OF CAMBRA.

Jack frost was very plainly seen in this valley last Monday morning. We hope it did not injure the fruit.

The recent rain has extinguished the raging flames of fire that could be seen circling the mountainsides.

Mr. Samuel White has made an improvement to his dwelling house by constructing a veranda on its two sides.

Grain seems to be a very scarce thing this spring.

Old people tell us that the valley has not been so poor for fifty years as at present.

As one extreme generally follows another we hope that business will suddenly take a turn, and give us a bountiful harvest.

Our crops have been a failure for the last two years, but we shall still labor and plant and trust in the Lord for good results.

Mr. Bruce Carey has moved in the hotel opposite McHenry's store.

The Huntingdon Creamery is again at work.

WALLER.

Misses Ettie Fritz, Lillie Fritz and Nora Hess of Bloomsburg were visiting their parents on Sunday.

The Quarterly Conference of the Evangelical Association which convened at this place last Saturday, appointed a committee to make arrangements for holding a campmeeting up Fishingcreek near Guava. The Presiding Elder said they wished to have an old fashioned grove meeting and hoped that all would strive to aid in making it a means of doing much good. Campmeetings are in some instances, no doubt, detrimental rather than beneficial to the cause they seek to upbear; but there surely has been much good done by them and if properly conducted they doubtless will do much good yet.

Messrs. M. S. Remley and W. L. Yorks went to Williamsport on Saturday and while there enjoyed the hospitality of Rev. G. W. Faus and Mr. G. W. Remley of the Dickinson Seminary; but formerly of this part of the country.

The recent rain was very welcome for the ground was getting so dry that many found it impossible to plow.

Rev. Hamlin preached his first sermon to a crowded house Sunday evening. He has not entirely recovered from a severe attack of the grippe which he had this spring, but he preached an able and entertaining sermon interspersing it with many well chosen illustrations.

The farmers are now busy planting corn There was but very little planted before this week.

THIS IS AN ADVERTISEMENT.

Don't read it unless you want to. It is not a ghost story ending in an alleged blood purifier, composed of mercury, iodine or arsenic, but a new therapeutic agent discovered by the Brazilian Indians—Cactus Blood Cure—the only purely vegetable remedy known for the hitherto incurable blood poisons of scrofula and specific disease endorsed by modern science.

TARGET SHOOTING.

The second of a series of shooting matches took place last Thursday afternoon at Catawissa between the Bloomsburg and Catawissa Gun clubs, resulting in a victory for the former by the following score:

Eyer W.	12	8	Harman	14	6
Sloan	12	8	Vetter	9	11
Mercer	15	5	Fox	11	9
Fleckenstine	13	7	Cherington	7	13

Boone	12	8	Shane	8	12
White	9	11	Stadler	8	12
Hess	13	7	Rifsnyder	10	10

The Lilliputians.

Count and Countess Magri (the latter being formerly Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb,) with Baron Magri, and a company of Famous Vaudeville people will appear at the opera house on Tuesday evening, May 12th, next. The countess is the same vivacious, attractive little body as of yore, and the thirty years that she has been before the public have passed lightly over her head. The count and his brother, Baron Magri, are charming little fellows, good actors and excellent swordsmen. Prominent among their company is Mlle. Garet a, with her troup of fifty trained pigeons. Pleasing sketches, amusing pantomimes and musical specialties of a high order, are announced. The entertainments are said to be both novel and attractive, and will doubtless draw large houses. Matinees will be given at 3 o'clock. Ogawas Troupe of Royal Japanese are also with The Comany. Popular Prices.

Stand Your Ground.

When you make up your mind to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy some other preparation instead. Clerks may claim that "ours is as good as Hood's" and all that, but the peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equaled. Therefore have nothing to do with substitutes and insist upon having Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and building-up medicine.

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 15.

If the young chicks mope around with no apparent cause, examine for lice, and grease the top of head under the neck, and around the vent with lard and coal oil.

Be sure to greese the head of the chick as you take them from the nest, also the old hen under the wings and on the breast.

This is good breeding weather, especially for lice. Put plenty of coal oil on the roosting poles. Don't have your drink cups very high for small chicks, as they may fall in and even if they do not drown it will throw them back.

Don't set more than one hen in a nest, until it has been thoroughly cleaned out and renovated.

If the setting hen becomes lousy dust under the feathers with sulphur or insect powder, but not within three days of coming off, if you do you will regret it. I did that once and the sulphur got into the chicks eyes, and they swelled shut and I lost them all.

Rev. Dr. Bothwell Dead.

BROOKLYN, May 3.—To-night at twenty minutes after 9 o'clock death brought an end to the sufferings of Rev. Dr Geo. W. Bothwell, of the Congregational Church of the Covenant on Classon avenue. He died at the Brooklyn Hospital.

When the end came there was at his bedside his wife, whom he recognized just before his death, the Rev. Dr. Stokes, an old-time friend of the family; Miss Alexander and Miss Collins, two private nurses and Ambulance Surgeon Young. All day to-day it had seemed as if the end would be a matter of a few moments at the most and life was only maintained by the frequent administration of stimulants, hypodermic injection of spartein, ether, brandy and inhalation of oxygen. His pulse during the morning ran up to 180 and finally became so rapid it was impossible to count it. At nightfall it was so feeble as to be scarcely felt. At six o'clock the physicians thought him dead, but he rallied again.

Two weeks ago Saturday Dr. Bothwell was administering medicine to his younger child and beguiling her by laughter and jokes. He had drawn the cork from the bottle with his teeth.

The doctor gave an unusually hearty and reassuring laugh as the nasty medicine went down the baby's throat. In fact, he exhausted his lungs and as he inhaled again, his mouth being still open, the cork was drawn into the root of his tongue. Dr. Bothwell gagged and choked and gasped. He tried to reach the cork with his fingers, and the gasp and the fingers together forced the cork still further in. It passed the epiglottis and into the larynx. The next inhalation from the lungs carried the cork upward and against the glottis. The effect was an irritation like that produced by tickling the throat with a feather, and convulsive coughing. The coughing continued for several hours, the parson expecting at any moment to cough out the cork. Although in these coughing fits Dr. Bothwell almost strangled he still did not consider the accident at all serious, and the next day, Sunday, he preached the usual morning service to his flock with the cork still in his throat. His voice was a little hoarse and speaking was exceedingly painful, but his congregation knew nothing of his suffering. That day, however, the family physician was sent for by Mrs. Bothwell and came to the parsonage.

Recognizing the case as a very serious one a number of throat specialists were consulted and an effort was made to locate the offending cork. After the first operation nature was given a chance, only a gargle to allay the irritation being given, and Dr. Bothwell actually preached the usual evening sermon. All Sunday night and Monday of last week the parson coughed violently, and Monday night the cork was dislodged and forced up to the glottis again. But the throat was closed by a spasm and the cork was not expelled, but with a rush of air back to the lungs it was carried back into the trachae, and there was intense pain resulting, and a constant sense of suffocation and persistent oppression.

Numerous operations were performed upon the patient but without avail. Widespread interest and sympathy were aroused in the case because of its many extraordinary features. Dr. Bothwell was a powerfully built man. He stood six feet two inches in height and was of robust build and full habits his weight being nearly 300 pounds. He was installed as pastor of the Church of the Covenant, Brooklyn, but recently. He came from the Presidency of the Straight University, of Louisiana and had a high reputation as a linguist pulpit orator and profound scholar.

Dr. Bothwell was born forty-one years ago in Ohio and graduated at Adrion College, Michigan. Afterwards he entered Yale.

The Medical Profession.

The attitude of the medical profession toward what is known as "patent medicines" is not at all unreasonable. Thousands of these nostrums are offered to the public every year. Some of them are dangerous, and most of them are futile. Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), we are all glad to say, is not classed among these nostrums. It has overcome the wholesome prejudices of physicians in all parts of the country, and some of the strongest testimonials in its behalf come from medical men who have used it in their practice, and who do not hesitate to indorse its wonderful results. This is extremely gratifying, but by no means astonishing, for every claim that is put forward in behalf of S. S. S. is based on a series of actual experiments extended over a long period of time.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. A WOMAN'S BUSINESS DRESS.

Editor Mary F. Seymour's Idea of a Costume That Any Woman Could Wear.

The resolution in regard to suggestions for a business costume for women, adopted by the recent national council of women at Washington, has created a deal of discussion among women in all parts of the country.

Miss Mary F. Seymour, editor of The Business Woman's Journal, in an interview with a reporter of the New York Sun, expressed herself on the subject as follows:

"Laying aside the question whether such a costume would be advisable or not, there is no doubt that women who are engaged in business are greatly hampered by the style of dress now in vogue. It takes twice as much exertion in a woman to walk as in a man, and you know when women are compelled to work for their living they cannot afford to expend their strength recklessly. The greatest difficulty which business women have today is to select the right kind of dress. Now my suggestion would be, in the first place, to wear a short skirt, one that would reach to the tops of the shoes. One of the greatest drawbacks of the long skirt which business women wear at present, next to its weight and clumsiness, is its tendency to drag in and catch hold of the mud in the streets and the dust on the floor. The short skirt would do away with this.

"A woman with both arms full of papers or packages could step boldly across a street, no matter how wet or dirty it might be, without being compelled to stop, transfer her burden to one arm, or hold some of it between her teeth in order to lift her skirts. This skirt should not be of heavy material; cashmere or silk is preferable to heavy woolen goods. The weight of heavy garments, distributed as it is in the skirts of woman's dress today, exhausts the vitality. Instead of having the many underskirts women are wont to have, I would suggest heavy Turkish trousers. These would be a great deal lighter than the number of skirts which would be necessary to give the same warmth, and, besides, would leave the limbs free to move. The skirt would then do nothing but conceal these trousers.

"The objection will probably be raised that such a short skirt will expose the foot in an undesirable way. It is true that women have big feet, and nothing makes them look bigger than a skirt which exposes the entire shoe and nothing more. To remedy this I would suggest that fancy leggings be worn, which extend from just above the toes to three or four inches above the shoe tops. These would conceal the line between the shoe and the stocking, and, besides having a pretty effect, would make the foot look smaller than it really is.

"So much for the lower part. The waist should be as simple and as comfortable as the dressmaker's skill can make it. I once designed a dress for myself which embodied all my ideas of comfort and convenience. The waist consisted of a jacket and a vest in one piece. The jacket was in reality nothing but two long lapels which covered a part of the body of the waist. In the vest were four pockets arranged just as they are in a man's waistcoat, two in the upper and two in the lower part. On the outside of the two lapels were two pockets similar to those on a man's coat. In the back drapery were inserted two oblong pockets, the openings of which were drawn together by elastic cord. Under one of the panels, on the right and the left sides, I had long pockets."

The reporter next asked Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake what she thought of the idea of a business woman's costume.

"I think," she said, "that one of the greatest strains that business women could put themselves under would be to dress out of the fashion of the day. I shrink from any suggestion of a dress for women that would make the wearer conspicuous and an object of ridicule. Business women, more than all others, are dependent upon the favor of the public, and for them to wear a garment that would make them ridiculous would be almost suicidal.

"I believe that comfortable dresses can be made within the lines of fashion. They should be perfectly loose and easy, and not too long—three or four inches above the ground would be plenty. The most disagreeable and uncomfortable part of a woman's dress is the band around the waist. This can be obviated in a degree by wearing the waist and the skirt of one piece. That is, the lining of the dress is all one piece, and the drapery is put on that according to the fashion of the day or the taste of the wearer."

Mrs. Roscoe Conkling.

The reappearance of Mrs. Roscoe Conkling on the streets of New York brings back to the thousands of friends of her lamented husband, who were familiar with her face only at rare intervals, recollections of her earlier beauty. Mrs. Conkling must be more than sixty now. She is unusually tall looking, being so erect, and in her mourning garments seems actually taller than her real height, which can't be less than 5 feet 6. Her eyes are blue and her features finely chiselled. Seen side by side with Mrs. Grant, the contrast between her stately proportions and the shorter, stouter figure of her companion, whose complexion is much darker, is noticeable. Mrs. Conkling's married daughter, Mrs. Oakman, was the companion of these two ladies on their visit to the Conkling painting in the Hoffman House.—New York World.

The Chatelaine Bouquet.

The chatelaine bouquet is quite the rage. It is long stemmed and is suspended from the waist by a chatelaine of handsome ribbon, and usually consists of roses and foliage or carnations and lilies of the valley. The chatelaine bouquet is, however, appropriate only with bridal or dancing toilets.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE EMPRESS'S REVENGE.

AN INCIDENT CONNECTED WITH BISMARC 'S FALL FROM POWER.

Her Refusal Accompanied by a Reminder That It Was He Who Had Estranged Her From Her Son—The Widow of Frederick the Noble Remembers the Slights Put Upon Her by the Man of Blood and Iron.

The New York Sun publishes the following account of the circumstances which brought about the resignation of Prince Bismarck, first printed in the London Times, and vouched for as accurate:

"France now begins for the first time to understand the cause of Bismarck's fall, and the circumstances, unknown till of late, which accompanied it. All these revelations are such that the exchancellor's bitterest enemies hardly venture to discuss what a shadow he cast in his descent from power.

"The iron rule of Bismarck had of late been an obstacle, an embarrassment, and a cause of irritation to everybody and a constant difficulty in the dispatch of public affairs. Latterly he had seen none of the ministers of whom he was the chief, had listened to none of their objections, and gave positive and definite orders, as if the opinions of his associates in the government were of no value. He was almost inaccessible, and received those only whom his caprice invited round him. He tolerated no objections, listened with a condescending smile which condemned beforehand the ideas submitted to him by his young master, the emperor.

"He even ceased really to work, while complaining bitterly if the slightest decision was come to without consulting him, and yet professed himself overwhelmed with labor whenever documents were sent to him to sign. He had become a terror to all who were obliged to come near him. Nobody ventured to contradict him; even the Emperor William II saw him only occasionally, either because his majesty was afraid of disturbing or of irritating him.

"At last the moment came when his pupil—now his master—confronted the fact that he was not master, but only chief servant. The long restrained imperial discontent broke into open quarrel on a minor question, and poured forth in such a torrent that the chancellor, taken by surprise and disconcerted, suddenly said:

"'Then I can only offer your majesty my resignation.'

"The emperor was silent and Bismarck withdrew. Two hours afterward, the resignation not having arrived, the emperor sent an aide de camp. The chancellor greeted him very affably, being convinced that the emperor wished him to return and to reconsider his idea of resignation; but, to Bismarck's horror and surprise, the aide de camp had been sent to demand his written resignation. The prince, very uneasy, made the lame excuse of not having yet drawn it up, and deferred the matter till the morrow. Next morning the aide de camp reappeared. This time Bismarck was calmer, but again made the same excuse, saying that before preparing a written resignation he was bound to pay a visit.

"Accordingly he did pay a visit which, incredible as it may appear, we can vouch for, was to the Empress Frederick. Yes, in a panic at his fall, this man, who but the day before had been the great chancellor, now stooped before her whom he had so long humbled and explained the danger to the empire involved in his fall and the fatal consequences which the young emperor risked in thus overturning the founder of the empire. He begged her majesty to intervene and prevent the disaster to Germany, and the remorse that her sovereign would feel at this unmerited humiliation of his most faithful servant.

"The empress heard him out. She saw humiliating himself before her the man who had hated implacably her husband and herself, and who had sown distrust between father and son. No doubt she enjoyed the spectacle of seeing at her feet this bitter enemy, now dismissed by the very son whom he had reckoned on making his tool against her, and in a single sentence, becoming an empress, a mother, and a woman, she returned to this cringing diplomatist all the insults he had heaped upon her.

"'I much regret being quite powerless. I should have been extremely glad to intervene with my son in your favor, but you so employed all your power in estranging his heart from us, making his mind foreign to mine, that I can only witness your fall without being able to ward it off. When you are no longer there my son will, perhaps, draw nearer to me, but then it will be too late for me to help you.'

"The prince withdrew with downcast head, and returning home found the aide de camp, who for the fourth time had come for his resignation, which the fallen statesman handed to him."

The Phonograph Trade.

A field that is now opening is the peddling of phonographic accounts of speeches, sermons, concerts, dramas, and operas. It will be a very simple matter before many years are past for a man to have delivered at his house on Sunday afternoon any sermon that was preached in the city in the morning; a lawyer to hear the testimony given in some case in which he is interested; for an invalid of musical tastes to hear a diva who sang the leading part in an opera the previous evening, or for a jury to listen to the examination of a criminal taken long before by the minor magistrate. In fact there seems to be almost no limit to what can be done in this respect. In regard to those utterances which have a great intrinsic artistic ability, it is said to be already possible to reproduce them wholesale in metal, and so enjoy any desired work a thousand times over in the masterpieces of each great singer or actor with the same facility as they now do wood cuts or even paper.—[The Phonogram.

It is said that the tourist season brings $4,000,000 yearly into Switzerland.

Cast Iron "Bricks."

Most of the building materials now in use have been employed with greater or less skill for thousands of years. Since primitive man discovered the adaptability of stone, wood, and burned bricks composed of clay and sand for house building, no equally useful building material has been added to the list. According to the American Furniture Gazette, a German mechanic has recently patented an invention which has certainly many advantages over the old fashioned brick of clay, though time may not prove it to be in all respects superior.

Its practical design and ingenuity are characteristic of the modern tendency of inventions. It is in the form and of about the size of an ordinary brick, but is composed of cast iron and is hollow.

The shell is so thin that the brick weighs less than one made of clay. A wall is built of such bricks without the use of mortar, and no skilled labor is required in laying them. The upper and lower sides of the bricks are provided with grooves and projecting ribs, which fit into each other easily and perfectly and form a wall of great strength.

There are also two large circular openings in the upper side of each brick, arranged so as to receive projections on the lower side of the brick that is to be placed above it. One of these projections is hook shaped, which insures a solid hold. A wall of the bricks is very quickly put together.

After the wall is built it is covered with paint. This closes all the cracks, renders the wall airtight, and prevents the bricks from rusting. By the use of good paint the wall can be made highly ornamental. The bricks are very durable, and a building made of them is perhaps as nearly fire proof as possible.

A wall thus constructed can be taken down or rebuilt as readily as it can be put up. There is no mortar to be removed, as there is when clay bricks are used. A house with such walls is cool in summer and warm in winter, for the large air spaces prevent the passage of heat.

With a supply of such bricks a man can put up his own house and be entirely independent of bricklayers, mortar mixers, and hod carriers. If he does not like his house he can take it down and build another with the same material, which is always as good as new.

Who Are the Happiest People?

The Earl of Derby answered this question recently in an address to the Scientific and Technological School, of Liverpool, an institution of which he was one of the founders. He said:

"Having known men of many professions, I should say that the happiest lives are those which have been devoted to science. Every step is interesting, and the success of those who do succeed is lasting.

"What general, what orator, what statesman, what man of letters can hope to leave a memory like that of Darwin? An invalid in health, a man who seldom stirred from home; a man until his later years was very little known to the outer world, but who from his quiet study revolutionized the thought of Europe, and will be remembered as long as Newton and Bacon.

"If fame be ever worth working for (I do not say it is) that kind of fame is surely the most durable, and the most desirable of all."

These words are true of the disinterested men of science. We have never had in this country men more uniformly cheerful and good tempered than Franklin, Rittenhouse, and Jefferson, who spent most of the leisure of their lives in the pursuit of knowledge; and Professor Agassiz was noted for the buoyancy of his spirits in every company where he felt at home. But we can say something similar of every person who has a pursuit suited to his talents and circumstances.

The happy people are they who have an occupation which they love, apart from any advantage it may bring them, one that they pursue with generous ardor. It is the element of disinterestedness that cheers their lives, whether they are engaged in ordinary or extraordinary avocations; and this is the reason why earnest students have such a keen enjoyment of existence.—[Youth's Companion.

The New Continent.

Now if we compare the map of Africa 10 years ago with the present map, we find immense changes. No parallel can be found in the history of the world. At the present time the whole of the vast African continent, except the central portion surrounding Lake Tchad, has been divided up, and six states have allotted themselves immense dependencies. However unprecedented the proceedings attending this partition have been, all friends of humanity can but rejoice at the result. In the first place, the most admirable principles have been admitted to govern all the central zone, including free trade, liberty of worship, equality for all alike, and peace based on neutrality. Even on soil where the states pursue their own interests will arise centers of civilization and progress. One inestimable benefit will result from this remedy, namely, the suppression of the slave trade, which devastates the Dark Continent, and which, it is calculated, condemns yearly about half a million human beings to death from ill treatment or starvation. The slave trade is, therefore, destined to succumb, for it will cease to profit those who carry it on. The United States, which abolished slavery at such an immense cost, can not fail to applaud this result. In point of fact an entire continent has just taken its place in the economic and social world precisely as if it had just been discovered. No one as yet can foresee what will be the consequences of these great changes.—[The Forum.

During all ages the strange fashion of mutilating and adorning the human ear has been practiced, and has been in vogue all over the world. It has especially enjoyed great favor among the Orientals, and by Persians, Babylonians, Lydians, Lybians, and Carthaginians the earring was worn as commonly by men as by women.

TO THE SPORTSMAN.

Camp life has a peculiar charm; but, to fully enjoy it, you must be prepared for all kinds of weather. Did you ever catch your rubber coat on a sharp twig or rough rock, and spoil it the first day? Ask any hunter or sportsman who uses a "Fish Brand Slicker," how he likes them. He will tell you it is tent, blanket, and coat, all in one. Light, dry, and warm, and will stand any amount of hard usage. No need of being concerned about the weather. Why do you wait till it rains, when you can be provided for all weather if you buy a "Fish Brand Slicker" now? Don't wait. A day's delay may be the cause of a month's sickness: can you afford to take the risk? Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with the "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERNON, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1889.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,
Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle, and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

SHORT SUNDAY TEXTS.

God loves the man who is not afraid of giants.

Be a worker. A loafer is never happy anywhere.

It is real gain to lose that which keeps us from God.

Stand behind the truth, and the devil can't hurt you.

A live minister and a dead church are hard to keep together.

The Lord's sheep have no business in the devil's blackberry patch.

If your religion does not make you happy what good does it do you?

A wide awake preacher is pretty sure to keep his church from going to sleep.

It is no excuse for a man to drink beer because Christ turned water into wine.

No man can please God by accident. He must want to do it, and plan to do it.

It is a great misfortune to be born so that all the laugh has to stay inside of you.

The devil never asks anybody to go further than the next corner to begin with.

A Christian with a long face is one of the best advertisements the devil has on earth.

The man who is honest with God doesn't need a big income to make him happy.

There are not many poor men who would do a rich man's work for the pay he gets.

The time to be pleasant and make it count is when everybody else is unpleasant.

One way to drive the boys and girls to the bad is to shut up the parlor and live in the kitchen.

There never was a sermon preached more eloquent than the simple story of a new born soul.

The slow growth of population in France and the unwillingness of young people to marry are social facts which are forcing themselves upon the attention of the government, and there is now a bill before the chambers for the imposition of a heavy tax on bachelors.

H. E. Van Deman, pomologist to the United States Agricultural Department, declares that there are in the southern parts of California, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas millions of acres which can be made to produce as good dates as those grown in Arabia and Persia.

Apple Blossoms in Winter.

We all love the beautiful, deliciously fragrant apple blossoms that charm us for a short season in the spring, and note sadly the last shower of white petals over the emerald green carpet beneath the trees. All persons do not know, however, how easily these lovely flowers may be caused to bloom indoors in winter.

If large branches are broken from the trees and placed in water in a warm, sunny window, they will soon flower, and many of the blossoms will be as beautiful and fragrant as those that bloom on the trees in the spring.

Care must be taken to select such branches as have an abundance of plump blooming buds, and some of these should be removed, as well as some of the more pointed leaf buds.

Wild pear and wild cherry branches may be flowered in a similar manner, but not so satisfactorily as apple tree limbs. No doubt many other kinds of early blooming shrubs and trees could be made to blossom in this way.

Here is an interesting field for experiment for flower lovers, particularly for invalids and children. The satisfaction of sending to a sick neighbor or presenting to a friend a bunch of fresh apple blossoms in winter amply repays the trifling labor required to produce them. —Youth's Companion.

Sherman's Memoirs.

The death of General Sherman has had the effect of creating a demand for his memoirs. The publishers tell me that the demand is something wholly unexpected, and yet they might have known from past experience that the death of a famous and great man is sure to arouse such interest. Sherman's memoirs are pronounced by literary critics, in some respects, the most fascinating literature of the war.

In his style Sherman was unique and original, just as he was in his action and habits of thought. A distinguished teacher of Connecticut said recently that he had advised his scholars to read Grant's memoirs and those of Sherman, so that they might learn what a splendid thing simplicity, lucidity and directness were in a literary style. Sherman's memoirs never had the sale that was expected of them, and in fact none of the recollections published by the distinguished actors in the civil war ever made much money, excepting "Grant's Memoirs."

In his case, the extremely dramatic and pitiful circumstances associated with the writing of them did as much to bring about the enormous sale as did Grant's reputation as the great commander.—E. J. Edwards in Philadelphia Press.

One Maine Boy.

The son of Mr. Alvin Howes, of Palmyra, is considered about the smartest boy in this section. He is 9 years old and is master of Greenleaf's Complete Arithmetic, having interest, equation of payments, mensuration, square root, cube root, etc., at his tongue's end. He will perform calculations with large numbers readily without slate or pencil, and rarely, if ever, make a mistake. With him a thing once learned is never forgotten. He began to learn geography when he was 3 years old by hearing his brother reciting his lessons to his mother, and now it is next to an impossibility to ask him a question in that study that he cannot readily answer.

He has a better knowledge of physiology than most teachers possess, and withal is quite a politician, being better posted on the events of the day than many who go to the polls and vote. He has not been drilled at home to show off; he has only been assisted when he called for help. He is a well developed, healthy looking child of modest and pleasing manners.—Hartland Cor. Pittsfield (Me.) Advertiser.

Wall-Leveling Rifles.

The new rifle with which the German army and navy have been armed during the last few months is a terror in the way of small weapons. The gun has a bore .31 inch, and throws a projectile of lead coated with nickel steel weighing 14.5 grains, or about half an ounce. The cartridge used weighs nearly an ounce, and is 3.25 inches in length. The magazine of the rifle carries five cartridges. The speed of the bullet on leaving the muzzle of the gun is about 2,200 feet per second, and the limit of its effective range is a little under two miles.

Brick walls of small thickness are not absolute proof against this gun, as several shots striking the same spot will make a breach.—New York Journal.

Killed Himself for a Friend.

E. C. Collins, a sewing machine agent, committed suicide at Memphis the other day. First it was supposed he was a defaulter, but that didn't pan out. Then it was assumed that he loved a girl and she wouldn't have him, but that was dispelled. Then came the announcement that he had killed himself to shield a friend, and that friend a plain man. It seems the story is true too. Collins had a friend who was charged with a serious offense. Collins was the most damaging witness in the case. His testimony would undoubtedly salt his friend, and rather than do that he committed suicide.—Detroit Journal.

Taking Medicine by Electricity.

A noted physician of Paris claims to have succeeded by a novel application of electrolysis and electrosynethis, analagous to the electro-deposition of metals, in conveying by the electric current to diseased internal organs of the human body the constituents of the drugs necessary for their recovery. A commission of the French Academy of Science, one of which is the learned Dr. Charcot, has been appointed to ascertain the value of the results, and to extend the investigations.—Philadelphia Record.

Spring Signs.

Small Boy—Grandpa, the robins are singing this morning. Is that a sign that spring is here?

Grandpa (who has been deceived too often)—No. It's a sign that robins ain't got no sense.—Good News.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
